Welcome
Welcome to the third issue of the Recorder News. The highlight this time is the long-awaited publication of Number Three of The Transferware Recorder but we still have room for another New Discovery, a fresh look at an interesting mark, and a lightning fast Auction Watch report. We are also able to announce the subject to be covered in Number Four, which we hope will interest new enthusiasts who might be prepared to contribute information or images. We hope you find something of interest and would always welcome comments or suggestions.

New Discovery!
We are all probably quite used to seeing small pieces from the Minton Miniature series and when it was listed in Recorder One the only colours recorded were the usual blue with later examples in grey or slightly flown blue. It is quite exciting to be able to report a completely new colour and here we have the “Entr. to Blaize Castle” scene printed in a nice rich brown. This can’t be a unique piece so there must be more examples out there. Can anyone offer any other colours?

If you ever come across something not listed in the Recorder please let us know, with as much detail as you can manage and an image if at all possible.

STOP PRESS!

Auction Watch

Transferware collectors looked eagerly to the sale of the Anthony Pugh-Thomas collection at Lawrences in Crewkerne, yesterday (13 October). In the event the results were very variable but with some notable successes. Highest price of the day was £1643 (including buyer's premium at 26.4%) for this Carey “Domestic Cattle” series platter. It just eclipsed two Spode Indian Sporting series platters which made £1580 each, and a very large John Ridgway “Giraffe” pattern platter which fetched £1517. Other significant prices include a Grazing Rabbits jug at £885, a Dogs on the Scent wash jug at £860, a Minton & Boyle “Devon” footbath and jug set at £1011, and a Job Meigh “Zoological Sketches” series platter with an elephant which trumpeted away at £986. There were several other strong results. Full details from www.lawrences.co.uk.

Advance News – Number Four

We are very pleased to report that the Transferware Collectors’ Club has awarded a grant for Number Four of The Transferware Recorder which will cover selected patterns from Literature. Famous names to be encountered will include Charles Dickens, Sir Walter Scott, Lord Byron, and William Cowper, amongst others. Think of Don Quixote, “Scott’s Illustrations”, “Byron Gallery”, etc. We would be delighted to hear from any collectors who may have an interest in the subject or might be able to help with good quality images. The email, as usual, is recorder@transferprintedpottery.com

Mark Time

Thanks to Judie Siddall this time for reminding us of an apparent maker’s mark for C. & J. Shaw, three varieties of which are shown here. The mark consists of an oval belt inscribed with a motto “VINCIT VERITAS” encircling a bow with five arrows. It has the trade name “Stone China” above and “C. & J. SHAW” beneath. It is shown here in dark red from a romantic platter featuring an equestrian statue. The same mark but without the trade name is known on a blue platter from Robinson, Wood & Brownfield’s “Zoological” series. A third example appears on a plate made by Hope & Carter and printed in purple with their “Braganza” pattern, registered on 27 April 1864. In this case the name appears as “C. & J. SHAW, JUNr”. In view of the fact that no such potter appears in the Staffordshire directories of the period and that the marks appear on wares from different makers, it is probably a retailer’s or importer’s mark. Does anyone have any other examples or more information?
